ABOUT

As a Multipotentialite, someone with many interests and creative pursuits, I never tire of learning new skills and concepts. Because of this, I bring a diverse skillset and background to software development. I have the ability to take on new ideas and learn new concepts quickly, adapt easily to new situations, and relate to many types of people. I love that software development allows me to use many of my favorite collected skills, and adds the fun of gathering new ones.

SKILLS

HTML	Python
CSS	Django
JavaScript	SQL
ReactJS	Git

TECHNICAL EXPERIENCE

Nashville Software School | Full Stack Software Developer
September 2020 - March 2021

A six-month intensive, full-time software development program focusing on project-based learning.

- Developed dynamic single-page web apps using diverse tech stacks
- Exposed to a simulated Agile environment
- Used Git and Github for version control
- Experience in remote collaboration

PROJECTS

Daily Baby | Server-Side Capstone Project

Daily Baby helps parents of small children bridge the gap between the desire to keep a baby book and the actual daily reality of keeping one. This app texts the user at their preferred time and frequency to remind them to record a journal entry. All they have to do is text back and entry and photo, and Daily Baby stores and presents the data for them.

- Tech: ReactJS, Python/Django, React-Bootstrap, Cloudinary, Twilio
- Client Repo: github.com/krsteele/daily-baby-client
- Server Repo: github.com/krsteele/daily-baby-server

Bespōke Hub | Client-Side Capstone Project

Bespōke Hub was built as a way for a friend, who restores and sells vintage boats, to keep track of the details of each boat, manage a project's progress, and seamlessly communicate that progress to his client via a dashboard.

- Tech: ReactJS, CSS, React-Bootstrap, Grommet, JSON-Server
- Repo: github.com/krsteele/bespoke-hub

Nutshell | Client-Side Group Project

A social dashboard app with a task list, group chat, news, and events. Built as part of a four-person team, in a simulated Agile environment.

- Tech: JavaScript, CSS, HTML, JSON
- Repo: github.com/nss-day-cohort-44/nutshell-whiskered-gnomes
