Travis Milner

Software Developer

LinkedIn: @travismilner1
GitHub: /TravisMilner
Portfolio: www.travismilner.com
Phone: (615) 474-5301
Email: travismilner1@gmail.com

EXPERIENCE

Nashville Software School — Software Developer

September 2020 - PRESENT

- Intensive six month software bootcamp focused on full stack development
- Proficient programming skills using Html, JavaScript, Css, React.js, Python, and Django
- Version control with Git and GitHub
- Full CRUD application building along with Entity Relation Diagrams and Wire-Framing
- Worked on multiple group projects to achieve a web application's Minimal Viable Product
- Worked remotely via virtual meeting environments

Verizon Wireless — Technical Support

October 2014 - June 2020

- Provided first-level technical support to end users on Android and iOS software, including installation, basic usage, and appropriate service level to warranty
- Performed troubleshooting techniques over the phone or via web messenger to identify and resolve issues
- Established patterns to reoccurring issues and provided input to network teams
- Completed proficiency testing in installing, maintaining, customizing, and operating personal computers

EDUCATION

Nashville Software School
Software Development Bootcamp-Certificate

A+ Certification
Comptia

SKILLS

- JavaScript, React.js
- Python, Django
- Git and GitHub
- HTML, CSS

PROJECTS

Dig It - Personal Project

Dig it is a simple web application created for beginner backyard gardeners to plan and organize their first few backyard gardens

- Built using React, Html, Css
- Two week building process using ERD, Wire-Frame, API, and full CRUD capability

JobHunt - Personal Project

JobHunt is a web application created for people to help organize their current applications, contacts, and companies during their search for employment

- Front End built with React
- Implements full CRUD capability
- Server built using Django REST framework